Volunteer and in-kind support play a critical role in the success of Thorne's mission, by ensuring all programs are delivered through the most cost-effective means possible. Our 28 dedicated volunteers gave us a total of 3165 hours of their time during the fiscal year.

Thorne is governed by a volunteer Board of Trustees who oversee policy level decisions for the Organization, hire and manage the Executive Director, and ensure Thorne's financial health and well-being. Additional volunteers and interns provided support both in the office and with Thorne programs. Thorne has a successful internship program for undergraduate and graduate students to gain hands-on experience with teaching outdoors in nature. Typical volunteer tasks at Thorne include assembling student-authored mini books and creating teaching props for Thorne's In-School Program; assisting teachers and students in the After School Program; serving as Teaching Assistants for Summer Camp; identifying and eradicating invasive plants at Sombrero Marsh; and procuring auction items for Thorne's annual fundraiser, Natural Night Out.

Form 990, Part III - Additional Information

In the summer of 2021, we increased our group size (from reduced COVID levels) and moved from a one-week to a two-week camp experience, serving a total of 747 campers. Building on what we learned during COVID, the longer experience allows children time to deepen and strengthen nature connections and friendships, practice emotional intelligence, increase their independence, and take a needed break from technology. To help support families struggling financially, we continued our traditional pricing and gave full scholarships to 1 in every 4 campers.

Field Trip Program and School Programs - These school programs engage more than 2,600 BVSD and SVVSD second graders and nearly 500 students from other schools annually in a day-long field trip to the 45-acre Sombrero Marsh Environmental Education Center in Boulder or Sandstone Ranch in Longmont. Through fun, hands-on, place-based environmental education experiences, students interact with and learn to care about, the ecosystems around them. Thorne's three-visit In-School Program reaches nearly 6,000 elementary students each year. The program expands students' knowledge in the areas of science and literacy through a series of lessons that involve interactive explorations, inquiry-based experiments, scientific instruments, and specimens, and writing a picture book. At select schools, Thorne offers an additional twelve weeks of After School programming to 280 students who are interested in further expanding their knowledge of science and connection to nature.

In 2020 Fall school closures left families in need of childcare, academic support, and enrichment activities. In response, Thorne created its Nature Learning Pods program and is offering $40,000 a month in scholarships to provide low-income families with 30 hours/week of nature-based programming. Also, teachers are struggling to adapt to new learning environments. Thorne is supporting educators by translating 100% of its curriculum into high-quality, virtual programs that include videos and activities. Each asynchronous program is available in English and Spanish. Thorne provide Thorne Nature Preschool - The Nature Preschool offers a unique early childhood education experience for children to learn, grow, and reach their full potential, through daily immersion in nature with caring, attentive mentors. With dual goals of fostering the development of the whole-child and nature connection, Thorne Nature Preschool prepares young children to succeed in school and in life.

In 2020 Thorne expanded its Nature Preschool to two locations in Boulder County as a response to COVID related increase the demand for safe, reliable childcare options for young children. In 2021 Thorne served 48 families and provided over $50,000 in scholarships to families in need.

NATURE FOR ALL - Thorne provides more than $400,000 in camp scholarships and subsidized school programs to more than 7,000 youth from low-income and Latino families each year (greater than 50% of Thorne's total participants). Thorne believes that repeated and in-depth outdoor experiences with youth and family participants increases the likelihood that they will build life-long connections with nature - an important social determinant of wellbeing and indicator of future stewardship attitudes and behaviors. For this reason, Thorne has developed its Nature Immersion Program (NIP), which seamlessly reduces barriers to accessing Thorne's Summer Camp, Field Trip, In-School, and After School programs for historically underrepresented community members, including partnering with elementary schools with high percentages of underserved youth in our community.

Due to COVID continuing through 2021, many families experienced increased challenges to accessing the benefits of time outdoors. Thorne responded to this barrier by pivoting programming to include Nature Learning Pods - a five day a week program for our most highly impacted youth to receive support with virtual learning while providing ample opportunity for students to engage in nature play and outdoor learning activities. The Nature Learning Pods served a total of 35 students for a total of 17,076 participant hours. Additionally, Thorne created the Nature Mentor program, an opportunity for families to meet one-on-one with our Community Liaison in a local outdoor area to experience the benefits of nature play and time outdoors in a safe manner. The Nature Mentor program served 34 participants for a total of 248 program hours.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - First Accomplishment

Thorne accomplishes its mission through three core programs that primarily serve Boulder County youth:

School Programs - Annually engages 10,000+ students through classroom presentations, field trips, and after-school programs designed to support academic learning and build nature connection. Youth participate in Thorne's In-School program, which expands students' knowledge in the areas of science and literacy through a three-class series of lessons that involve interactive explorations, inquiry-based experiments, and writing a picture book. All 2nd grade youth receive a full-day nature field trip to a local open space area that utilizes fun, hands-on, place-based environmental education experiences to teach natural science concepts and foster empathy for other living things. A portion of students who enjoy in school programs also attend an immersive 12-week after-school program that allows participants to deepen their connection to nature by exploring in and around their schoolyard with experienced nature mentors.

Summer Camp - Annually provides youth ages 5-15 with the opportunity to explore local grassland, evergreen forest, and wetland habitats with an experienced nature mentor. At camp, children are encouraged to tap into the spirit of play and follow their own unique interests while staff seamlessly integrate learning from the lessons that abound within nature's classroom.

ECE Programs - Annually engages youth ages 3-6 in a unique preschool experience that fosters the development of the whole-child and nature connection through daily immersion in nature with caring, attentive mentors. In addition, 350+ youth ages 2 and up and their families participate in a Lil-Explorers parent and child program which is designed to build the knowledge, skills, and interest needed to foster a lifelong love of nature exploration for the entire family.

In addition, Thorne is the backbone and provides programming for Nature Kids/Jovenes de la Naturaleza (NKJN) - A 20-organization effort to provide $1 million plus annually in pre-k to high school, backyard to backcountry, and family integrated environmental education and outdoor recreation programming to underserved Lafayette youth. NKJN has also helped to build more than $2.5 million in parks and trails to ensure all Lafayette youth live within a safe 10-minute walk to nature. During 2021, the NKJN program will begin expansion into the City of Boulder with hopes of expanding to
